£30.00 the set

The sermons in these two volumes have never before been published. They are a direct transcript of two handwritten documents of Kennedy's. The first is a booklet of 32 pages containing the first three sermons in this book on Habakkuk 3:2, all dated December 1859. The second is a 675 page notebook of sermon notes dating from December 1863 until March 1874.

MAN'S RELATIONS TO GOD

by Dr. John Kennedy

ISBN 0-9526799-3-0 96 pages paperback

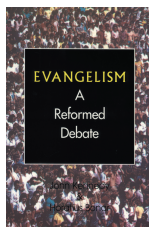

£5.00

What is found here in the Rev. John Kennedy is a heavenly blend of doctrine and devotion, a fine example which refutes the idea that sound doctrine is dry and lifeless. The author ranges from a consideration of man as created, through fallen and evangelized, until he exhibits man as in Christ. The thinking of this "Spurgeon of the North" is clear and easy to follow: this book presents true spiritual fare, enough to satisfy the hungry soul.

EVANGELISM: A REFORMED DEBATE

by Dr. John Kennedy and Dr. Horatius Bonar

ISBN 0-9526799-1-4 144 pages paperback

£5.00

A reprinting of material never before found in one volume. While Dr. Kennedy's critical review of the Moody-Sankey missions, "Hyper-Evangelism - Another Gospel, Though A Mighty Power" is not unknown, here it is accompanied by Horatius Bonar's retort entitled "The Old Gospel - Not Another Gospel but the Power of God unto Salvation" and Kennedy's further rejoinder "A Reply to Dr. Bonar's defence of Hyper-Evangelism". Includes index.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES

by Dr. John Kennedy

ISBN 0-9539241-4-9 66 page booklet

£3.00

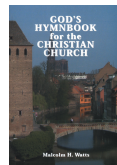

Originally published as eight articles under the title "The Present Cast and Tendency of Religious Thought and Feeling in Scotland" contributed to the "Perthshire Courier" from 4th February to 1st April 1879. Incisive critique of modernising trends in the church, which is just as relevant today as when these articles were first published.

Purity of Worship

GOD'S HYMNBOOK FOR THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH

by Rev. Malcolm H. Watts

ISBN 0-9539241-8-1 64 page booklet

£3.00

In his booklet The Psalter - The Only Hymnal? the Rev. Iain H. Murray has argued that human hymns should have a place alongside the Psalms of David as suitable songs for Christians to sing in public worship. Given the author's standing and his professed adherence to the Reformed faith, some response was necessary. This is it.

THE VOICE OF HIS PRAISE

by Rev. James Kerr & Rev. John M'Donald

ISBN 0-9526799-5-7 36 page booklet

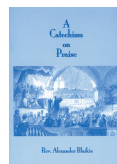

£1.50

The full flood of man-centred praise that has brought such havoc in its wake in the public worship of God began with the trickle of hymn-singing and instrumental music. The authors here demonstrate that the remedy is one which has the consensus of church history on its side as well as Scripture.

A CATECHISM ON PRAISE

by Rev. Alexander Blaikie

ISBN 0-9539241-7-3 24 page booklet

£1.50

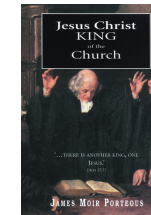

Blaikie deals with the subject of praise under the New Testament, listing reasons for exclusive psalmody and showing the status of instrumental music in worship in a catechetical way.

Presbyterianism

JESUS CHRIST KING OF THE CHURCH

by Rev. James Moir Porteous

ISBN 0-9526799-4-9 340 pages hardback

In 1869 the Free Church of Scotland presented a prize for the best essay on the fundamental principles of presbyterian order and government. The judges were unanimous in awarding the prize to James Moir Porteous for his essay, which was revised and enlarged for publication. This book contains the first two parts; the third part - though available as a free pdf file from the James Begg Society - is not published in this edition.

Creeds and Confessions

RETURNING TO THE FAMILY ALTAR

by Douglas W. Comin

ISBN 0-9539241-2-2 64 page booklet

£3.00

This new booklet meets an urgent need in today's church. Taking as its basis the Directory for Family Worship it provides a Bible study and commentary on the text and shows in a most helpful and compelling way the relevance of the subject of Family Worship for the present day.

THE WESTMINSTER SHORTER CATECHISM

ISBN 0-9539241-9-X 48 page A6 booklet

The text and proof texts found in this edition of the Catechism are the original ones submitted by the Westminster Assembly to the English Parliament in 1648; only the spellings have been updated. The proof texts are given here in full. In other published editions some of the proof texts have been partly or entirely omitted, substituted by other references or had other references added to them.
